

Timex Device Agent - Wirelessly download and communicate with your watch. The Timex Device Agent connects your PC to the Race Trainer™ system. This small but powerful application lets you easily download your watch data and even set all the watch settings!

This desktop application installs on your PC or Mac and lets you download your watch data as well as set the watch's settings.

TIMEX DEVICE AGENT

What is the Timex® Device Agent?

The Device Agent, along with your Timex® Race Trainer™, is your complete solution to monitoring and tracking your training program. Using wireless technology you can easily download your workout data from your watch and then send it to your own personal online Timex Trainer account.

Device Agent is a free desktop based software program that:

- Allows you to extract data files from your Timex® Race Trainer™ and upload them to your online web account.
- Manage all watch settings using a simple PC application, set time, alarms, date, intervals and more.
- Works natively with a PC or Apple Macintosh (Intel & PPC) computers.

Timex Ironman® Powered by TrainingPeaks™ is the first step for you to take in the scientific approach to your training. Timex ironman® allows you to use an already created training program to reach your initial goals or to create your own plan using your own experience and suggestions you have received to reach your ultimate goals no matter how tame or extreme they may be.
